Community Participation

Developing a community participation plan

At Bila Community Group, we work closely with you to develop your community participation plan, ensuring you will be involved in activities you enjoy and are interested in.

These activities can include various things, from learning a new skill to being accompanied to the movies.

Our support is customised to build our client's ability to participate in the community.

We assist in participating in training and education, engaging in social and recreational activities, and developing skills for employment.

Why is community participation important?

As stated by the NDIS, addressing the lower levels of community participation amongst people with disabilities can improve well-being and lessen the amount of long-term care and costs associated with it.
